Between Two Fires Between the elections and the war preparations the ministry is confronted with an awkward constitutional pre-dicament. The time of a large portion of the reserves called to the colors should expire three days before the election, but the constitution provides that all temporary service men should be released five days before the election.

It appears that the government roust either discharge the men and leave the country exposed to the danger of a staden Turkish invasion, or risk a stage trial and conviction, which would mean long terms of imprisonment. Such a contingency cannot be lightly regarded in a country where party strife is so bitter as in Bulgaria. Apparently the government's only salvation lies in a political victory, after which the Sobranje could set aside any convictions. "It is charged that Barrett had entered into an agreement with J. H. Calls Christian Science Blight.

Apostle Taylor used an orchard af-flicted with blight as the foundation upon which to hurl his vituperations against the "cisms," as he chose to call cultural disease which, if it is permit-ted to spread throughout an orchard, will kill every tree in it. The only cure is to cut off the diseased branch, re-move it from the orchard and burn it. "Christian Science is like blight in the orchard," said the speaker. "If it is not cut down one foot below the diseased part it will kill the branch and destroy the whole orchard. It is a so-called religion which rests largely upon what they tare being harmy and boal. Scores Hypnotism Also.

After making a few other remarks upon the religion of Mrs. Eddy along the lines of those just given, Apostle Taylor turned his attention to hypno-

sm. He said, in part: "Hypnotism is another blight which appears upon the top of the tree. Hypnotists are called charmers. It is written in the Bible that in the times of Christ they were put to death. It was a gift not tolerated in those days, and should not be in these times. It is an evil gift. aposte layor led up to the subject of infant baptism in other churches, and the belief that unless a child is baptised it will go to hell.

"There is no such thing as infant damnation," he continued. "It is a form of belief of such ministers who recently not in los Angeles to fix up. recently met in Los Angeles to fix up their creed to suit the times. Nobody is harder to get light into their heads than ministers. But those men are slowly getting it into their heads that infants are not damned just because they are not baptised.
